

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Melbourne, Iowa:—"I suffered for many years with female troubles, inflammation, and bearing-down pains, so that I was unable to do my work."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I am so thankful for the great good it has done me. I feel that I am a living advertisement for this medicine as I have influenced so many of my friends to use it, so thankful am I that it restored me to health."—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. D. 1, Melbourne, Iowa.

When a woman like Mrs. Watermann is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

MAYOR BUCKINGHAM SITS WITH VETERANS

Formally Opens Entertainment Held For Enjoyment of Old Soldiers.

Mayor and Mrs. E. T. Buckingham were guests of honor of Lincoln circle, ladies of the G. A. R. last evening. Mayor Buckingham opening the entertainment arranged by the ladies for the veterans of the G. A. R. and their sons. After the mayor had formally opened the program, expressing his pleasure at meeting the men whose lives had been volunteered for the sake of preservation of the union, he was presented with a handsome bouquet of chrysanthemums.

One of the striking features of the entertainment was the musical numbers contributed by H. A. Strout and Samuel Bond, both of whom are sightless. The former is a cornet soloist and the latter a pianist. Among the others were Miss Georgianna Walsh, Master Albert Frickie, Mrs. H. C. Baldwin, Miss Anna Dietrich, Inspector Valentine of the S. of V., and Mrs. McCallahan.

Following the entertainment, a banquet was served. The committee in charge of the entertainment was made up of Mrs. Belle Curtis, Mrs. Elizabeth Sears, Mrs. Katherine Gregory and Miss Georgianna Walsh.

BEQUEST COMES 10 YEARS LATE TO BENEFIT YALE

New Haven, Nov. 17.—Through the evolution of certain trusts, the deed of trust made by George Peabody, the famous London merchant and founder of the famous museums at Yale and Harvard universities, has been added to the estate of the late Professor Othniel C. Marsh, former professor of Yale and Harvard universities, who died at his death left the estate to the university which is now the property of the Yale forest school.

George Peabody in the year 1867 executed a deed of trust conveying large parts of his immense fortune to people on this side of the water in many instances and by its provisions there now falls due the sum of $16,000 to the estate of Professor Marsh.

Professor Marsh died in 1899, leaving most of his estate to Yale but, also having in his will a provision giving $10,000 to the National Academy of Science. When the estate was settled the bequest to the Academy was squeezed out through the fact that there was not enough money left in the estate to pay it after the Yale bequests had been settled. It was therefore considered impossible for the Academy to get its bequest but this new and unexpected turn in the tide of fortune brings this bequest at an estimated value of $16,000 to the Academy for the money which was left in the Marsh estate will be used primarily, it is understood, in the payment of this Marsh bequest. Thus after ten years the Academy will come into its own. The remainder of the $16,000 after expenses and fees have been deducted and also the sum of $467 which the State takes as an inheritance tax, will go to the university with the residue of the Marsh estate.

This trust deed was executed in London and it is not believed that its provisions were known here until the guardians of the deed found that this bequest was due to the Academy and sent a copy over here in order to have the provisions carried out.

Mud Flats Vanishing

Residents in the vicinity of the Yellow Mill pond are watching the progress of the A. T. & S. Co. in filling in the mud flats skirting the east end of the pond. The big concern, the end plant of the big concern, the slag from the mill is dumped along the harbor line, and it is planned to construct a bulkhead in connection with the filling in of the flats. The slag is transported from the mills to the water front on a small railroad. The obliteration of the mud flats is expected to better the conditions of health in the vicinity and to do away with the foul odors.

Miss Margery Pierce, daughter of B. D. Pierce, Jr., will give a dance at Brooklawn, Friday, Nov. 26.

Intestinal Indigestion

A Form of Dyspepsia Usually Resulting From the Inability to Digest Starchy Foods

There are a great many persons who are victims of what is known as intestinal indigestion, a disease which is due to the fact that the starchy foods are either partially digested or not digested at all, and the result of this trouble may be either an obstinate constipation or a persistent diarrhoea.

This inability to digest starch is called "dyspepsia" and is a disease which is much in evidence. Americans are notoriously poor digesters of starch, and as starchy foods, such as potatoes, rice, bread, etc., are digested entirely in the small intestine, and not in the stomach proper, as is generally supposed, it can be readily seen how intestinal indigestion will usually produce diarrhoea.

In the small intestine the pancreatic juice acts upon the starches and ordinarily, in a state of health, possesses the power of converting them into grape sugar and dextrine. Starch must be so transformed before it can be of use to the animal being. If it is not as unchanged starch, it either passes through the alimentary canal, and proves a useless burden to the system, because it resists absorption, or it causes intestinal indigestion, the food products becoming acid through putrefaction, which often sets up a catarrhal inflammation of the intestine, resulting in diarrhoea.

In a complaint of this character many persons use purgative, cathartic, bismuth and tannin to relieve the diarrhoea, all of these remedies being powerfully astringent, and they stop the trouble suddenly, "locking up" the morbid secretions, throwing the food, intestinal poison back on the system, and often causing death through auto-intoxication.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS contain among other powerful digestive substances called diastase, which thoroughly digests every particle of starchy foods in the small intestine and prevents the possibility of intestinal indigestion, no matter how excessive may be the amount of food eaten. These tablets also contain calcium carbonate, which is a mild though effective sub-astringent, and which relieves and cures the diarrhoea by its astringent action. It does not act with such suddenness as would cause poisoning of the system, but on the contrary, by its antiseptic properties, all toxins, intestinal germs and poisons always present in intestinal indigestion and diarrhoea, are destroyed.

Not only are the starches digested by the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, but through the action of other ingredients they contain albuminous foods like meat and eggs are also digested. Thus they cure indigestion of any kind. Buy a package from your druggist today for 50 cents and send us your name and address for a free sample package. Address F. A. SHRINERS TO HIKE ACROSS SOUTHERN DESERTS IN APRIL

New Orleans to be Mecca of Pilgrims From East, West and North.

SOME OF THE PLANS

New Orleans, La., Nov. 17.—Active preparations are now under way by the executive committee of Jerusalem Temple, the New Orleans-Louisiana branch of the Mystic Shrine, for the reception and entertainment of all the members of the Imperial Council, and all Shriner who will visit New Orleans next April to attend what will be the greatest gathering ever held in the Crescent City. While it is true the convention or meeting of the Imperial Council is still a few months off, the officers and members of the host Temple desire to lose no time in completing all details, no matter how minute, in order that there will be no hitch in the monster entertainment.

Permanent headquarters have been established by the executive committee in the St. Charles Hotel, which will be the official headquarters of the Imperial Council. "Uncle Dick" Lambert, known to many Shriners over the United States as well as Canada and Mexico, is chairman of the principal committee. He is the oldest active Shriner in Louisiana and is recorder of Jerusalem Temple.

Gus D. Levy, illustrious potentate of Jerusalem Temple, is ex-officio chairman of the main committee, with Frank Davis as secretary and chairman of the committee on publicity and promotion. These gentlemen, who stand high in the ranks of Masonry, are assisted by a large number of the most prominent Shriners in this section of the country.

Their main object is to make the annual pilgrimage of 1910 a big success—a greater success than any other of the kind ever held in the Crescent City. Much of the preliminary work has been disposed already, thus indicating that no time whatever will be lost in completing the arrangements for the time before the beginning of the Imperial Council meetings which will be of special interest, by reason of the fact that this will be the first time in the history of the organization of the Mystic Shrine that the main pilgrimage will have been held this far South.

In determining upon New Orleans as the Oasis in which to pitch their tents on the annual pilgrimage of 1910, the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine have exhibited their usual keen insight of desert craft. For is not this Oasis known as the Crescent City and are not its sands tropical, tempered to the semi-tropical climate in the month of roses in the North by refreshing breezes from the gulf, known as Mexico? Furthermore, is not the Oasis one of the mightiest historical importances as tribes of three great nations have each pitched their tents in the days gone by under its alluring palms, and left their footprints in the sands in the wet sands about its wells?

Jerusalem Temple's executive committee will strain every point to afford the most elaborate and interesting entertainment for the visitors next April. Illumination is another feature which is now receiving the attention of the Illumination committee, of which Dr. L. Metz, professor of chemistry at Tulane University, is the chairman. Thousands of dollars will be expended in decorations, illuminations and entertainments by Jerusalem Temple this coming April when the New Orleans-Louisiana Shriners will make good their promise to afford a most unique and at the same time up-to-date outing for the members of the Mystic Shrine. Even at this early date the hotel committee has arranged accommodations for the majority of the Imperial Council representatives at the St. Charles Hotel. The remaining number have been provided for at the Hotel Gretnaway. In addition to this important item, this committee has also arranged to have many Temples "housed" in the different hotels. As this is usually one of the most important matters in connection with big conventions the Hotel committee is exercising the greatest care in making allotments so that the temples which have applied already and will apply, will be accommodated to the entire satisfaction of the members. The matter of properly parking of private cars and trains is also receiving the earnest attention of Jerusalem Temple officials. The Imperial Council committee, of which Col. Wm. B. Melish of Cincinnati, O., is chairman, will visit New Orleans about the middle of November. Col. Melish will be accompanied by Messrs. Edgar A. Cutts, potentate of Ales Temple, Savannah, Ga.; Jacob T. Barron, Imperial Oriental Guide, of Columbia, S. C.; Benjamin W. Rowell, Imperial Recorder, Boston, Mass.; Wm. H. Brown, Imperial Treasurer, Pittsburg, Pa. During this visit the gentlemen will go over the plans mapped out by the local executive committee and to make such suggestions as may be deemed necessary.

He was afraid to tell her right out and out that he loved her, so he began in a roundabout way, hoping she would catch his drift, then betray, by her confusion, her own feelings. He didn't dream but that she loved him, but thought that she, like himself, was afraid to demonstrate it.

"Heart trouble," she repeated. "Are you sure you're heart trouble, Alfred? You know indigestion is very like it at times."

"Oh, I know I've got heart trouble, all right. I—can't you see it yourself?" "Why, how silly, Alfred! No one can see heart trouble. They have to feel it. Have you taken anything for it?"

"No, not yet. But I—I want to, don't you know?"

"Then why don't you?" "I—I would—that is, if I could get it."

"Can't you get it, Alfred?" "I—I don't know."

"Have you tried?" "Yes."

"No, not yet." (Silence for two provoking moments.) "Alfred!" (coldly.)

"A play on names unconsciously perpetrated by my youngest son was very funny," said a Flatbush man yesterday. "We live next door to a family named Feltenour, and the other night while my family was busy reading in the library we heard a racket on the back porch. My son went out to investigate, and on his return my wife, always inquisitive, asked what had caused the noise."

"Nothin' but a couple of cats," Jim told her, and then I heard her ask, 'Did you see whose they were?' "Yes; one was ours and the other was Feltenour's."—New York Press.
